Immigration regulations state that F-1 students need the permission of the I-20 issuer to pursue concurrent enrollment at two institutions. Therefore, students are required to provide written permission from CESL to study at another institution. To be eligible for concurrent enrollment at another school, students must:

- Be currently enrolled at CESL - level 60 or above.
- Maintain a CESL GPA of 2.0 or better.
- Maintain good attendance at CESL; no more than 10% absence.
- Select courses that do not conflict with regularly scheduled CESL classes.
- Enroll in no more than 5 credit hours outside of CESL per semester or session.

F-2 visa holders can study only part time, and must also show a letter of permission to study at another institution.

Students must obtain the required permission from the CESL IEP Coordinator and the Student Services and Immigration Advisor.

The CESL student named below has permission to enroll in concurrent study at _____________________________ for the _______________________ semester or session.
